

WEEKLY EVENT SERIES: GI-ACE RESEARCH PROJECTS

THURSDAYS

November 2021 - March 2022

9-10 EDT / 2-3 UK TIME

ON ZOOM | RSVP VIA EVENTBRITE

Starting in November, ACE research teams will share how their research projects have aligned with the founding principles of the GI-ACE programme: developing anti-corruption interventions that are problem-focused, politically viable, have engaged practitioners throughout the research process, and provide avenues through which to measure the effects of the reforms. Set some time aside in your calendars, and come ready with questions!

November 4

Claudia Baez Camargo -
How can you harness informality to design anti-corruption interventions?

November 11

Laura Nkula & Gilbert Siame -
How can professional communities of planners in South Africa and Zambia drive integrity?

November 18

Jackie Harvey -
How can we identify the beneficial owner to prevent the laundering of the proceeds of corruption and aid in asset recovery?

December 2

Gerhard Anders -
The first comparative study of law enforcement efforts targeting high-level corruption in Africa (Nigeria and Malawi).

December 16

John Heathershaw -
How can we encourage compliance of following diligence requirements in the banking, real estate, charitable and public relations sectors?

January 13

Amrita Dhillon -
How do social audits affect service delivery?

January 20

Dan Haberly -
Does transparency in international architecture bring cleanliness?

January 27

Jacqueline Klopp -
How has COVID-19 impacted small-scale traders in East Africa?

February 3

Elizabeth David-Barrett & Mihály Fazekas -
How can big data analytics help us identify corruption risks in public procurement?

February 10

Mark Buntaine -
Can positive public recognition lead to good governance?

February 17

Jan Meyer-Sahling -
Does ethics training reduce corruption in the civil service?

February 24

Ryan Jablonski -
How can we deter and detect medication theft?

March 3

Thorsten Chmura -
How do social norms and beliefs about others affect bribery in international business?

Click here to register for the event series now!